

POETRY.

SONG.

O, lay me not by the clear fountain's brink,
Where sweet flowers intertwine and kiss,
And the pure chrysalis drink—
To dream of bliss.

Lay me not under where the green trees grow,
And the wild bees hum ever round,
And waving branches throw
Poetic sound.

Lay me not where serenely breaks the sky,
Through green and golden leaves above;
Soft shadows floating by,
Where all breathes love.

O, lay me not where the sea's rippling wave
Plays leisurely among bright shells,
On yellow beach—in cave,
Where echo dwells.

Trees fragrant, and soft sounds, and gentle airs,
May charm to joy the vacant breast;
Or sooth the life's common cares
To peaceful rest.

To me they seem like a forsaken feast,
That still the bridal lustre wears—
Where death the only guest
The garland wears.

Extracts from Mrs SIGOURNEY'S new work entitled
"Sketches, &c."

Conjugal Love.—Conjugal love, early fixing on an object most amiable and beautiful, was as a fountain of living water, springing up to allay thirst, and to renovate weariness. I was anxious that my home should be the centre of intellectual and polished society, where the bud of thought should expand unchilled, and those social feelings which are the life-blood of existence, flow forth, unfettered by heartless ceremony.—And it was so.

A Father's Love to a Daughter.—A father loves his son, as he loves himself,—and in all selfishness, there is a bias to disorder and pain. But his love for his daughter is different and more disinterested; possibly he believes that it is called forth by a being of a higher and better order. It is based on the integral and immutable principles of his nature. It recognizes the sex in hearts, and from the very gentleness and mystery of womanhood, takes that coloring and zest which romance gathers from remote antiquity. It draws nutriment from circumstances which he may not fully comprehend, from the power which she possesses to awaken his sympathies, to soften his irritability, to sublimate his aspirations,—while the support and protection which she claims in return, elevate him with a consciousness of assimilation to the ministry of those benevolent and powerful spirits, who ever "bear us up in their hands, lest we dash our foot against a stone."

A Daughter's Love.—The continual conflict with passion and prejudice, and that the fine edge of the feelings could not ever be utterly proof against the corrosions of such an atmosphere. Then I sought my home, and called my bird of song, and listened to the warbling of her high, heaven-toned voice. The melody of that music flew upon my soul, like oil upon the troubled billows,—and all was tranquil. I wondered where my perturbations had fled, but still more, that I had ever indulged them. Sometimes, the turmoil and fluctuation of the world, threw a shade of dejection over me: then it was her pride to smooth my brow, and to restore its smile. Once, a sorrow of no common order had fallen upon me; it rained in my breast, like a dagger's point; I came to my house, but I shunned all its inmates. I threw myself down, in solitude, that I might wrestle alone with my fate, and subdue it; a light footstep approached, but I heeded it not. A form of beauty was on the sofa, by my side, but I regarded it not. Then my hand was softly clasped, breathed upon,—pressed to my lips. It was enough. I took my daughter in my arms, and my sorrow vanished. Had she essayed the hackneyed expression of sympathy, or even the usual epithets of endearment, I might have desired her to leave my presence. Had she uttered only a single word it would have been too much, so wounded was my spirit within me. But the deed, the very poetry of tenderness, breathing, not speaking, melted "the winter of my discontent." Ever was she endowed with that most exquisite of woman's perfections, a knowledge both when to be silent, and where to speak,—and so to speak, that the frosts might dissolve from around the heart she loved, and its discords be tuned to harmony.

The Turks.—A letter received from Constantinople, contains the following passage:—"The Turks are rapidly conforming to the habits of other nations. They are now so far humanized as to admit into their mosques the painters and architects who visit this city to sketch views of the Bosphorus. I lately saw some artists sketching in the mosque of St. Sophia, which, a short time ago, had any Christian dared to enter, he would have been massacred on coming out. A few days ago, the sultan gave a grand dinner to the members of the corps diplomatique now in Constantinople. The banquet was cooked and served a la Francaise, and the entertainment was followed by fire-works, rope dancing, &c."

LARGE DISCOUNTS—FOR CASH.—The subscribers believing the present system of credit injurious to both the buyer and seller, and wishing to change the same so far as practicable, have determined to commence a Cash Business—and will after this date discount from their former prices 8 per cent for cash—thereby giving those who are in the habit of cashing their bills, some real advantage, and also holds out to others an inducement to adopt the same course. It is the frequent complaint of those who settle their bills promptly, that they "pay for others' delinquencies." As this system will obviate all such causes of complaint, they trust it will meet the approval of their customers, and all those who may hereafter become such. STONE HOUSE: IN LOWELL. This elegant Mansion is now open for the reception of Boarders and Strangers. The "Stone House" needs no recommendation to those who have formerly visited it. It stands on the southern bank of the Merrimack River, about a quarter of a mile from the business part of the town of Lowell, fronting on the main road leading from Lowell westward, and having a Piazza in rear which immediately overlooks "Pawtucket Falls," and commands a delightful and extensive prospect up and down the River.

No situation in this country combines greater advantages for a Summer residence, or resort of parties of pleasure. To many it will be some recommendation at this season, that excellent Saloons are taken in the Falls at this place. The admirer of mechanical art and power will not forget its vicinity in the most important and interesting of the Manufacturing towns in New England. The lovers of natural scenery will remember its elevated, cool and commanding site, perfectly secluded from the noise and business of the town.

The subscriber has fitted up and furnished the House at a liberal expense, and relying upon considerable experience in his business, and the most careful and attention, hopes to be able to sustain its former reputation and meet the reasonable expectation of all who may be pleased to favor it with their patronage.

NEWTON ROAD HOUSE.—NEWTON. The subscriber would respectfully inform his friends and the public, that he has taken that new House, where the Boston and Worcester Rail Road Cars stop, in Newton, formerly known as the "Newton House." The house has been fitted up and furnished in as good style as any house of its class in the vicinity of Boston. The situation is pleasant, the prospect delightful, and the arrangement such as will be approved by an enlightened public.

The Larder will be constantly provided with the luxuries of the season, the Bar stocked with the choicest Wines, Liquors, &c.—and no pains nor expense will be spared to make the establishment an agreeable retreat for those who may favor it with their patronage.

N. B. Military, Fire and Social companies accommodated at short notice. The Stables and outhouses are very commodious—being built expressly for the accommodation of the Team and Driver, who are invited to call—as they will find the best of attention.

Persons coming in the Rail Road Cars, can have Breakfast at half past six o'clock, A. M. JOHN DAVIS. may 12

OLD COLONY HOUSE, HINGHAM.—The subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has taken the above named establishment, which is put in complete order for the reception of company. Great care has been taken to engage good attendance in every department, for the convenience of those who may honor him with their company.

N. B. The House is too well known to need a description, it being one of the most pleasant and fashionable places of resort within the vicinity of Boston. Hingham, May 12 if JOHN STRONG.

NEW ESTABLISHMENT.—The subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has leased for a number of years the spacious basement story of the new building erected, and known by the name of Codman's Buildings, in Wilson's Lane, on the westerly side of the United States Bank, a few feet from State street, which is fitted up in as good style as any of its class in the vicinity, and furnished throughout to correspond with the improved taste of the present day, and will be opened this day for the reception of company.

It being the great object of the subscriber, to afford (with the exception of ardent spirit) and as he will superintend himself every branch of his business, he hopes his friends and the public will afford him the patronage which it is intended his establishment shall merit.

Gentlemen whose families remove out of town during the Summer months, will find it convenient to dine at the above establishment. Refreshments from 5 o'clock, A. M. until 10 P. M. Hot dinners from 1 to 3. Supper every day. E. KENFIELD. June 14

MANHATTAN HOUSE, MILK STREET.—The subscriber hereby informs his friends and the public, that he has taken this pleasant situation, and fitted it up for the accommodation of permanent boarders and transient company. Its location, he is sure, must render this House a delightful residence for boarders, especially during the warm months, and his most assiduous efforts will be directed to make their stay within it at all times, agreeable and happy. The house is entirely insured, and being a wide passage on each side, and a large open airy hall, and near the business part of the city. Persons visiting the city on business, or in travelling will find this an airy, healthy, and pleasant retreat while here; and all who favor it with their patronage, will, he trusts, be gratified with the conveniences which it affords.

The bar will be furnished with various kinds of refreshments, excepting ardent spirits. EBENEZER THOMPSON. apr 15

DELPHI HOUSE.—The subscriber informs his friends and the public, that he has opened the commodious Tavern, corner of Ann and Cross streets, nearly opposite the Eastern Stage Office, for the accommodation of regular and transient boarders. The House has been furnished with the best furniture, bedding, &c. &c. and is also agent for the sale of Dr. Nott's celebrated Coal Stoves, and offer a large assortment. THE BOSTON MORNING POST.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 14, 1834.

STENOGRAPHIC CLIPPER OF CONGRESS—No. 137.

Washington, May 9, 1834.—The political awakening is over! It passed away with the final disposition of the "ought-not-to-have-been-sent," but "constitutionally-received," and "factiously-rejected" Protest. Unless the Federalists, alias Nationals, alias Whigs, can set up a revival, they are lost! Like the distressed Lynn shoemakers, their sole inquiry is, "What shall we do to be saved?" Now, setting modesty aside, I think I may say I have done what I could. By picking them, the most approved mode of preserving crab-apples and cucumbers. But I confess they have been so crabbied and crooked, that it required very strong pickles to restrain them. If mine has been too weak, it was owing in some measure to their prodigious water humor—the dropsy of patriotism! But I won't argue the matter, nor aggravate their distress; for I feel how necessary the excitement was to give interest to the proceedings of the Senate; for it is as dull as a race course the next day after all the heats are over.

But to the orders of the day. The Senate was rather thin, it being the last day of the session (which commenced on Wednesday.) Many of the Whigs (of this most dignified body on earth) I understand, were attracted to the course in consequence of the charm of a name; and you will think it odd enough when I tell you it was "Tyrant!" Yes, the favorite course upon whose speed the Whigs bet, was surmised the Tyrant. He was their favorite; but they lost their bets. They are equally unfortunate at betting and bullying; but as to the fact of their losing, I know it not personally—it is only matter of rumor; and I won't hold myself responsible for it. The Senators, however, returned by 2 o'clock, in time to save their distance on some unimportant scrub races in the Senate.

Mr. Hendricks made a motion for commencing the morning session at 11 o'clock. It was opposed by Mr. Grundy and Ewing, on the ground that much important business was before the Committees, which could not be accomplished unless they had the morning to despatch it. The motion was lost.

Mr. Ewing called up the Resolutions, calling on the Secretary of State for documents relating to an investigation into the conduct of Dr. Craigie, the Superintendent of the Patent Office. He remarked that the Dr. had burnt the correspondence of the office. If the Resolutions are complied with, there will be some light thrown on the subject, that will cast the Dr.'s well known urbanity (!) quite in the shade. Professor Silliman ought to look out for this.

Mr. Hendricks renewed his motion for devoting Friday and Saturday to public business—the ordinary duties of legislation. I was glad to see Judge Porter support the motion; and he gave as one reason, among others, that they had two hundred bills from the other House not yet acted upon. Mr. Webster opposed the motion, thinking that two days in a week, as there were "no Sundays now," were quite too much to be wasted in public duties, when the country was so much distressed. He called for a division; and when it was found eighteen were in favor, and perhaps not half a dozen with him, he generously gave it up! not however without giving notice he should call for a reconsideration of the vote.

Mr. Tipton introduced the Michigan Bill, for making a State of the Territory; but it was laid upon the table, and will not probably pass this session.

A Bill was passed, granting a pension to a Revolutionary War veteran. Mr. Preston made a brief speech upon it. Mr. Shepley made some objection to it on constitutional grounds; but it met with general approbation.

The Cumberland Road Bill passed to be engrossed; and the requisite appropriation with it.

The Military Appropriation Bill for the ensuing year, passed without opposition. I conjecture from this, that the Whigs will not very strenuously oppose the civil appropriations. But I have seen so much of their consistency, that I won't be responsible for it.

The scenes in the House were quite interesting to-day and to-night—to-morrow I shall glimpse at them.

REIS EFFENDI.

Congress.—When the Washington papers of Saturday were put to press, on Friday evening, the House of Representatives was still in session, upon the general appropriation bill; subsequently the following amendment in regard to the salaries of the officers of the customs, was adopted by a vote of 85 to 72:—

"In no case, shall the compensation, by salary, fees, or otherwise, be permitted to exceed, of a collector $3000 per annum; of surveyors and naval officers, $2500 per annum; and of weighers, gaugers, markers, appraisers, and all others connected with the collection of the customs, $2000 per annum."

The House sat until half past one o'clock in the morning; and, after resisting all other motions for amendment, for adjournment, for the Previous Question, &c. at length ordered the bill to be engrossed for a third reading (with the above amendment in it), and then adjourned over to Monday.

Honesty of the Opposition.—Mr. Benton presented to the U. States Senate a memorial from Boston approving of the removal of the deposits, against their restoration to the Bank of the U. States, and against the re-charter of this odious monopoly, signed by 3072 persons. The (Bank) Intelligencer. The (Bank) Telegraph—the Boston Courier and other federal prints, have stricken off one thousand names from the number, in their accounts of it. It is but candid however to give them credit, for coming nearer to the truth in this case, than is usual in most of their statements.

The Bank Committee.—It is stated in a private letter from Philadelphia, says the New York Commercial, that after the refusal of the President and Directors of the Bank of the United States to transfer the books and papers of that institution to the room of the Committee in that city, for their inspection, that body adjourned to meet at the city of Washington on Thursday next, when a report of the conduct of the directors would be made out and submitted to the House of Representatives.

The Tory Whigs make presents of plate, &c. to every traitor who comes over to them; Duane, Selden, et cetera—while Crockett has his Rifles, and Seals. Sumptuous entertainments are prepared for their partisans, and all invited without cost, as at Fvelton, and other places.

"In the contest between Crassus and Pompey, we see the former catching the favors of the people by entertaining them at ten thousand tables, and giving them largesses of corn. Well might it be pronounced, that the Roman spirit was on the decline, when such a base art was found successful. Very different were the times, when Curius Dentatus rejected the Samnite present of plate; or when the Roman ambassadors set the golden crowns, they had sent them by king Ptolemy, on the heads of his statues."

The appointment of Mr. Mer. of New York, as Professor of Drawing at West Point, has been confirmed by the Senate.

Letter of the Hon. Richard Rush, in answer to one received by him from the Bank Investigating Committee, accepting his resignation of the office of Secretary to that Board.

Sydenham, near Philadelphia, May 8, 1834.

DEAR SIR—I have derived much gratification from the manner in which the Committee has been pleased to accept my resignation, as made known in your obliging letter of yesterday, and cannot refrain from saying so.

When first I had an intimation that it was the Committee's desire to invite me to a connexion with its business, I felt honored; yet feared that I could not obey the invitation, owing to engagements then requiring a portion of my daily time out of town. But being led to believe, by as much information as was before me, that the sittings of the Committee would only be held between the usual hours of beginning business in the morning and four in the afternoon, and that my daily attendance would not be necessary beyond these limits, I was happy to accede to the call. I felt, indeed, that in times like these, a citizen was scarcely at liberty to decline a summons to any public service which others might think him capable of, however limited the sphere; and least of all, towards such a service as that of the committee. Its objects I considered to be momentous; nothing less than enquiring, under the high precept of the representatives of the American people, if further illegal acts had been committed by a corporation that had avowed doctrines, and committed and defended practices, to the last degree unwarrantable and dangerous; doctrines and practices, which, if sanctioned, would, in my belief, end in laying the course and policy of our highest affairs—our laws—all the most active operations of business and trade throughout the country—the freedom and purity of elections—the public administration—the press—finally, public liberty itself, at the footstool of this corporation.

These were considerations to excite any man to the duty of co-operation in your work, however small was to be his part in it. If, before you came, I regarded this corporation as standing self-convicted of transactions sufficient to consign it to universal condemnation, and yet saw that it was able by the potency of its money directly applied, or silently felt through vast and multifarious channels of influence, to rear up thousands and tens of thousands of champions ready to fight its battles as if it were utterly innocent, and had even been aggrieved; if I thought thus of the Bank, as I did, had I read nothing more than its own manifesto, I must needs think the work that brought you here of the deepest concern to millions of freemen, living and unborn, of this young and as yet uncorrupted Republic. I considered it probable that the new proofs of offending which your work might, not irrationally, be expected to evolve, would do something towards opening the eyes of the blind, and rousing the sensibilities of the torpid, towards a true estimate of the public dangers which, whether through design or the erroneous use of its frightful power, is capable of stirring up evils from the centre to every extremity of the land, and passions worse than those of war. I beheld almost a hemisphere convulsed. I saw every thing else at a pause—every thing swept into one ingulfing vortex. I felt abashed for our common country, full as much as alarmed, if a banking company could do all this. I felt that barely to sit by whilst, as the chosen agents of a great people, you carried your inquiry into the causes of such transcendent indications and events, would be a privilege as well as a duty. I was even ambitious to hold the recording pen at the scene. Whilst, as your secretary, I should have felt it a bounden duty to set up a corporation, I should have acknowledged no co-equality in its dignity with the grand supervising authority; and it would have been with far higher feelings that I would have placed upon the indecipherable journal of your proceedings for the information and warning of posterity, the new usurpations and affronts of the former, whenever the evidence disclosed them.

These were the feelings which I acceded to your flattering call; this the spirit in which for a time I went along with you. But the prosecution of your important labors requiring sittings more numerous than had been foreknown, at least by me, and not unfrequently sittings by night; I found that, with a home in the country, I could not, under my present circumstances, give that punctual attendance at them which strict duty demanded. Hence I felt it right to stand aside that some one else might go into the place, not with more zeal than I carried into it and still retain; but with facilities that I could not command for the perfect fulfilment of its requisitions; and I am grateful to the Committee for the testimonial transmitted through your kind letter, touching as much of duty as I performed.

I must throw myself on the Committee's indulgence for so long a letter; the more, as a word is to be added. It is to forestall any further step by the Committee as far as I am concerned, and therefore, I have the hope, will be excused. I have been associated with you under feelings to which I have adverted, I took the place with no view to other recompense and can accept none. I make known this from no false feeling I trust, or as any rule to others, but from a purpose previously taken under my own relations to this institution. Having once been its advocate, in documents of the nation, and having since labored for its downfall under a sincere conviction of the number and danger of the abuses already confessed or proved upon it, it was my irreversible determination to receive no money whatever for assisting in this work of finding out further abuses, if committed. It would have been indicative to the Committee had I imparted such a determination on accepting or whilst remaining in its service, and it was therefore foreborne until now, but cannot be changed.

With sentiments of the highest respect, I have the honor to remain your obedient and faithful servant,

RICHARD RUSH.

"I likes to be abused."—The Tory Whigs are firing hot shot into us from all quarters—but we don't mind them much; some of them are so mean that they say what they are ashamed to own—they will find it a poor "experiment." (It is time for a little more Latin, if we would keep the learned Pandits quiet—so here goes—) In se magna ruunt. Translation for them what's ignorant—"Great things are apt to rush against each other."

"Error i' the bill."—The editor of the New Haven Herald lately published a glaring account of the capture of a whale, in the harbor near that city, which proved to be a hoax, put upon him by an anonymous correspondent. A brother editor, somewhat facetiously inclined, says "if there was no Whale taken, there was a monstrous great gudgeon caught, with a naked hook and without bait."

We have received the first number of the NEW YORK TIMES, a daily morning paper, established to take the place of the Standard, by its former editors, Messrs W. HOLLAND and E. SANFORD. It is a large, well filled sheet, and, under the direction of its present editors, cannot but sustain a high reputation for candor and ability.

Portugal.—The English appear to be puzzled to find out the true condition of this country. The New Monthly Magazine says—"we have frequently heard the caution given, to 'hear both sides,'—in the affairs of Portugal, we would add, 'but believe neither.'"

POLICE COURT.

Francis Ross, of South Boston, for the six months last past had established a substantial character for drunkenness, and dangerous and disorderly conduct, and at the same time succeeded in keeping the police myrmidons at bay by his prowess and threats. He'd "give ten dollars to any d—n Yankee constable, that would attempt to arrest him." Constable Andrews, however, made out finally to secure him, but not without losing a large fragment of his double-breasted black broadcloth vest. Frank appeared pretty happy on his trial, laboring under the pleasant self-deception, that the "matter o' five dollars" would patch the lacerated law, and stitch up the constable's vest; but when the "four months" was meted out to him, he expressed a little penitential sorrow. His melancholy, however, was somewhat soothed by the operation of hand-cuffing, which had all the charm of novelty for him. He examined intently every motion in the procedure, and his admiration upon getting an experimental insight into the philosophy of the steel-bracelet apparatus, was strongly depicted in his delighted countenance. Nabby Downing's curiosity was not more gratified and astonished by the Major's patent locomotive butter churn. His beaming eyes seemed to say, more plainly than words could express—"Well, this is the slickest contrivance I ever did see."

Dreadful Tornado.—The Petersburg (Va.) Intelligencer of the 8th inst. contains an account of a dreadful tornado by which that section of the country was visited on the preceding Monday, from which we make the following extract:—

Every thing, within its range, was laid prostrate; the largest trees were torn up by the roots and carried a considerable distance; dwelling and out houses were levelled with the earth, and their fragments scattered in every direction. The day had been cloudy, with occasional showers. About 3 o'clock the clouds assumed a black and lowering aspect. In a few minutes after, the whirlwind commenced its ravages. A correspondent who witnessed its violence, says—"It was in the form of an inverted cone, and every cloud near seemed to rush into the vortex. As it approached, you might see the forests career through the darkened air. Its duration, at any point, was not more than one or two minutes. Its general course was from West to East: its width varied from two hundred yards to a half a mile; and, from what we have already heard of its destructive march, its extent could not have been less than seventy miles."

It appears to have commenced in the county of Lunenburg, near Hungary town—hence it passed by Notaway Court House—from whence it passed to Curtis's (formerly Reese's) on Cox Road, where it appears to have been equally destructive. The next place it reached was the plantation of Mr. Wm. E. Poiseau, about four miles from Petersburg, where the dwelling house, kitchen, barn, &c. were entirely demolished, and their timbers, planks, &c. separated into fragments and scattered over the farm in every direction. Nothing was left to mark the site of the dwelling house but a small portion of the brick foundation. The refuge in the garden, but were overtaken by the whirlwind, and knocked down by the flying wreck of their former dwelling. From Mr. Poiseau's, it passed along near the Southern boundary line of Petersburg, without doing much injury until it reached the plantation of Mr. Augustine Burge, in Prince George, from whence it crossed the James River between Tarbay and Coggin's Point.

Numerous lives were lost, and a large amount of property destroyed in buildings, &c. Where it passed through the forests, not a tree was left standing.

Singular.—Mrs. Caroline Snyder, wife of Adam Snyder, of the Northern Liberties, Philadelphia, mysteriously disappeared on the 4th of November last, leaving her infant sleeping in the cradle, and no intelligence could be obtained as to her fate. Her husband, an uneducated but respectable German, formed another attachment, which was to be consummated one day last week. On the very day fixed upon for the purpose, some boys, grappling at Nest's wharf, brought up the body of his former wife, who, it seems, had committed suicide, no it is supposed, in a moment of delirium. The circumstances produced considerable excitement among the ignorant and superstitious, who lost no time in conjuring up bug-bears out of the facts related.

It was expected in Washington, according to Madam Rumor, that the President would send a Message to Congress, on Monday last, in relation to the recent vote in the French Chamber of Deputies.

The splendid new theatre recently built in Mobile, was opened on the 28th ult. with The School for Scandal.

Naval.—The U. S. sloop of war Falmouth, Captain Spencer, arrived at Pensacola on the 20th ult. from a cruise, and on the 21st the St. Louis, Capt. Newell from a cruise. The latter ship was fourteen days from Jamaica, parted company with the Vandalia, on the 18th instant, off Cape St. Antonio, bound to Havana, all well. The St. Louis left Carthage on the 4th ultimo. The French were expected to make an attack on that place on the 15th instant, in consequence of there having been no sufficient reparation made for the insult lately offered to the French Consul. Several merchants, apprehensive for the safety of their property, sent considerable amounts of specie by the St. Louis to Jamaica.

The company of Artillery, under command of Major Zantinger had also arrived at Pensacola, and have taken quarters, at Cantonment Clinch, preparatory to a march to St. Rosa.—N. Y. Com.

Brig Parthian.—This vessel, it will be recollected, arrived some time since at Pernambuco, under suspicious circumstances, in charge of the crew, who stated the captain had landed at Bona, (Africa) and had sailed from there in a vessel bound to Liverpool. It now appears, from accounts received in this city, that the crew had mutinied and placed the captain and officers ashore on an island, from which they had been taken by the Br. ship Royal William, of New Brunswick, which vessel was spoken on the 7th of February. This information is derived from a letter received from St. Stephens, N. B. by a merchant of this city.—N. Y. Star.

Extensive Robbery.—The store No. 136 Pearl street, occupied by Withers & Heard, and Sharp, Tuttle & Co. as Dry Goods Merchants, and several other stores in the block between Maiden Lane and Pine st., were entered on Saturday night through the scuttles. The drawers and desks were broken open, many valuable papers destroyed and scattered about the floor, and property to a considerable amount stolen.—N. Y. Times.

CITY AFFAIRS.

At a meeting of the Mayor and Aldermen on Monday—

Richard Sullivan Fay, Esq. was chosen Orator for the next anniversary of the Declaration of Independence. Upon petition, ordered that a general meeting of citizens be held at Faneuil Hall, on the 20th inst. for the purpose of determining by written ballot, whether they will adopt the act passed at the late session of the Legislature, entitled "an act in further addition to an act establishing the city of Boston."

The following gentlemen were appointed officers of the Fire Department, and warrants granted them: Benj. H. Hammett, foreman, and Wm. H. Orcutt, 2d assistant, of Engine No 10; Joseph Simes, 1st assistant, and Robert J. Brown, clerk, of Fire Co. for the 8th Ward.

A Generous Act.—The National Intelligencer says.—The Hon. Mr. Grennell, of Massachusetts, in crossing the bridge over the basin, near the Centre Market House, Washington city, on Sunday last learned from some boys that a negro lad had fallen into the basin, and sunk, some minutes before. Finding any other means of recovering the body hopeless, he threw off his coat, and plunged into the water, (about three feet deep), and after going down once or twice ineffectually, at last found the body, and conveyed it to the wharf, at all appearance dead. After a short time, however, he had the happiness to perceive that his efforts and the risk he incurred, had not been in vain.—The lad gradually recovered.

A well dressed young man on the Battery, this morning, about half past eleven o'clock, drew a pistol, and putting it to his breast, discharged it. He fell immediately, but on being taken up was found to be but little injured. He stated that the pistol was loaded with ball, but the wound given appeared as if occasioned only by the powder and wadding.—N. Y. Evening Post.

Found.—On Ames' Island, in Connecticut river, nearly opposite this town, by Mr. Philo Temple, the skeleton of a male child long since drowned, apparently six or seven years old. The bones are not quite entire, but may probably all be found when the river subsides. They were, with nearly all its outer dress and some child-like trinkets, imbedded in the sand.—Greenfield Mercury.

At the Supreme Judicial Court sitting in Barnstable this week, the only important case submitted to the Jury was that of Thomas Nickerson and others, of Provincetown, vs. the Ocean Insurance Company of Boston, for insurance effected on the schooner Theatre, lost in the season of 1832. The Jury retired last Wednesday evening about four o'clock, and continued in session until Thursday morning. Verdict for defendants. N. Bedford Gaz.

Fire at Cazenovia.—The sabbath factory belonging to Mr. John Williams, at Cazenovia, Madison county, was destroyed by fire on the evening of the 1st inst. with all its contents, except about 3000 yards of sabbath, which were in the basement. Loss estimated at $8000, and no insurance.

A splendid Roman Catholic Cathedral, recently erected on Grant's Hill, Pittsburgh, Pa., was consecrated on Sunday week; the bishop of the diocese, the Rev Dr. Hughes, of Philadelphia, and several of the clergy officiating.

Joseph Buonaparte has addressed a letter to the French Chamber of Deputies, protesting against the injustice of refusing his family permission to return to France, and thanking all those who have assisted him.

Captain Seth Thomas, a veteran of the revolution, died at his residence in Ledyard, Cayuga county, on the 14th ult. in the 75th year of his age. Captain T. was one of the electors of President and Vice President, in 1832.

The Nashville Banner, says—"Cotton Crop destroyed.—The frost of last night has destroyed all the cotton which was situated on high grounds in this vicinity."

Yesterday afternoon, the sail boat Ohio, with seven persons on board, was upset and sunk above the Dry Dock, East River, and four were drowned.—N. Y. Gaz. of Monday.

We have received a regular file of Rio de Janeiro papers from the 10th to the 20th March, but they contain nothing of material interest.—Ibid.

Coffee.—From the 1st of January to the 18th of April inclusive, three millions three hundred and eighty-four thousand pounds of Coffee are estimated to have arrived at Philadelphia.

Viscount Powerscourt, and Mr. Parnell, are now in New York, from England, as we learn, on a tour through the United States.

Doyleston, Pa. May 6.—Snow.—We had quite a fall of snow, on Friday evening, and the weather for several days has been too cold for the plants, &c.

At the town of Lucknow, in India, the cholera, in one week, carried off twelve hundred persons.

The President has recognized Don Antonio G. Vega, Vice Consul of Spain, for the port of Boston.

A lady once asked her husband what the difference was between exportation and transportation. "My dear," replied the good natured husband, "there is a difference, and I will endeavor to bring it as near your understanding as possible; suppose that you were exported, I should be transported."

Good Logic.—Said Dinah to Sambo, (as they were taking a loving promenade on the Battery) "Sambo, now do you think de married life most happy?" "Well, I'll tell you," said Sambo, "dat arr 'pends altogether how dey enjoy themselves."

Engine Company No. 3 has been disbanded by the city government, for alleged riotous conduct in Washington and State streets, on the 1st inst.

MARRIED. In this city, on Sunday evening, by Rev Mr. Himes, Asaph R. Robbins to Elizabeth M. Littlefield. In Framingham, Timothy S. Travers, of Natick, to Charlotte Case.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 14, 1834.

STENOGRAPHIC GLIMPSES OF CONGRESS—No. 137.

Washington, May 9, 1834.—The political awakening is over! It passed away with the final disposition of the "ought-not-to-have-been-sent," but "constitutionally-received," and "factiously-rejected" Protest. Unless the Federalists, alias Nationals, alias Whigs, can set up a revival, they are lost! Like the distressed Lynn shoemakers, their sole inquiry is, "What shall we do to be saved?" Now, setting modesty aside, I think I may say I have done what I could to preserve, by picking them, the most approved mode of preserving crab-apples and cucumbers. But I confess they have been so crabbed and crooked, that it required very strong pickle to restrain them. If mine has been too weak, it was owing in some measure to their prodigious watery humors—the dropsy of patriotism! But I won't argue the matter, nor aggravate their distress; for I feel how necessary the excitement was to give interest to the proceedings of the Senate; for it is as dull as a race course the next day after all the heats are over.

But to the orders of the day. The Senate was rather thin, it being the last day of the races; (which commenced on Wednesday.) Many of the Whigs (of this most dignified body on earth) I understand, were attracted to the course in consequence of the charm of a name; and you will think it odd enough when I tell you it was "Tyrant!" Yes, the favorite course upon whose speed the Whigs bet, was named the Tyrant. He was their favorite; but they lost their bets. They are equally unfortunate at betting and bullying; but as to the fact of their losing, I know it not personally; it is only matter of rumor; and I won't hold myself responsible for it. The Senators, however, returned by 2 o'clock, in time to save their distance on some unimportant scrub races in the Senate.

Mr. Hendricks made a motion for commencing the morning session at 11 o'clock. It was opposed by Mr. Grundy and Ewing, on the ground that much important business was before the Committees, which could not be accomplished unless they had the morning to despatch it. The motion was lost.

Mr. Ewing called up the Resolutions, calling on the Secretary of State for documents relating to an investigation into the conduct of Dr. Craigie, the Superintendent of the Patent Office. He remarked that the Dr. had burnt the correspondence of the office. If the Resolutions are complied with, there will be some light thrown on the subject, that will cast the Dr.'s well known urbanity (!) quite in the shade. Professor Silliman ought to hold this post.

Mr. Hendricks renewed his motion for devoting Fridays and Saturdays to public business—the ordinary duties of legislation. I was glad to see Judge Porter support the motion; and he gave as one reason, among others, that they had two hundred bills from the other House not yet acted upon. Mr. Webster opposed the motion, thinking that two days in a week, as there were "no Sundays now," were quite too much to be wasted in public duties, when the country was so much distressed. He called for a division; and when it was found eighteen were in favor, and perhaps not half a dozen with him, he generously gave it up! not however without giving notice he should call for a reconsideration of the vote.

Mr. Tipton introduced the Michigan Bill, for making a State of the Territory; but it was laid upon the table, and will not probably pass this session.

A Bill was passed, granting a township to the Town of Shepley. Mr. Preston made a brief speech upon it. Mr. Shepley made some objection to it on constitutional grounds; but it met with general approbation.

The Cumberland Road Bill passed to be engrossed; and the requisite appropriation with it.

The Military Appropriation Bill for the ensuing year, passed without opposition. I conjecture from this, that the Whigs will not very strenuously oppose the civil appropriations. But I have seen so much of their consistency, that I won't be responsible for it.

The scenes in the House were quite interesting to-day and to-night—to-morrow I shall glimpse at them.

REIN EFFENDI.

Congress.—When the Washington papers of Saturday were put to press, on Friday evening, the House of Representatives was still in session, upon the general appropriation bill; subsequently the following amendment in regard to the salaries of the officers of the customs, was adopted by a vote of 85 to 72:—

"In no case, shall the compensation, by salary, fees, or otherwise, be permitted to exceed, of a collector $8000 per annum; of surveyors and naval officers, $2500 per annum; and of weighers, gaugers, markers, appraisers, and all others connected with the collection of the customs, $2000 per annum."

The House sat until half past one o'clock in the morning; and, after resisting all other motions for amendment, for adjournment, for the Previous Question, &c. at length ordered the bill to be engrossed for a third reading (with the above amendment in it), and then adjourned over to Monday.

Honesty of the Opposition.—Mr. Benton presented to the U. States Senate a memorial from Boston approving of the removal of the deposits, against their restoration to the Bank of the U. States, and against the re-charter of this odious monopoly, signed by 3072 persons. The (Bank) Intelligencer. The (Bank) Telegraph—the Boston Courier and other federal prints, have stricken off one thousand names from the number, in their accounts of it. It is but candid however to give them credit, for coming nearer to the truth in this case, than is usual in most of their statements.

The Bank Committee.—It is stated in a private letter from Philadelphia, says the New York Commercial, that after the refusal of the President and Directors of the Bank of the United States to transfer the books and papers of that institution to the room of the Committee in that city, for their inspection, that body adjourned to meet at the city of Washington on Thursday next, when a report of the conduct of the directors would be made out and submitted to the House of Representatives.

The Tory Vhigs make presents of plate, &c. to every traitor who comes over to them; Duane, Selden, et cetera—while Crockett has his Rifles, and Seals. Sumptuous entertainments are prepared for their partisans, and all invited without cost, as at a velvet, and other places.

"In the contest between Crassus and Pompey, we see the former catching the favors of the people by entertaining them at ten thousand tables, and giving them largesses of corn. Well might it be pronounced, that the Roman spirit was on the decline, when such a base art was found successful. Very different were the times, when Curius Dentatus rejected the Samnite present of plate; or when the Roman ambassadors set the golden crowns, they had sent them by king Ptolemy, on the heads of his statues."

The appointment of Mr. Mer, of New York, as Professor of Drawing at West Point, has been confirmed by the Senate.

Letter of the Hon. Richard Rush, in answer to one received by him from the Bank Investigating Committee, accepting his resignation of the office of Secretary to that Board.

Sydenham, near Philadelphia, May 8, 1834.

DEAR SIR—I have derived much gratification from the manner in which the Committee has been pleased to accept my resignation, as made known in your obliging letter of yesterday, and cannot refrain from saying so.

When first I had an intimation that it was the Committee's desire to invite me to a connexion with its business, I felt honored; yet feared that I could not obey the invitation, owing to engagements then requiring a portion of my daily time out of town. But being led to believe, by as much information as was before me, that the sittings of the Committee would only be held between the usual hours of beginning business in the morning and four in the afternoon, and that my daily attendance would not be necessary beyond these limits, I was happy to accede to the call. I felt, indeed, that, in times like these, a citizen was scarcely at liberty to decline a summons to any public service which others might think him capable of, however limited the sphere; and least of all, towards such a service as that of the committee. Its objects I considered to be momentous; nothing less than enquiring, under the high precept of the representatives of the American people, if further illegal acts had been committed by a corporation that had avowed doctrines, and committed and defended practices, to the last degree unwarrantable and dangerous; doctrines and practices, which, if sanctioned, would, in my belief, end in laying the course and policy of our highest affairs—our laws—all the most active operations of business and trade throughout the country—the freedom and purity of elections—the public administration—the press—finally, public liberty itself, at the footstool of this corporation.

These were considerations to excite any man to the duty of co-operation in your work, however small was to be his part in it. If, before you came, I regarded this corporation as standing self-convicted of transactions sufficient to consign it to universal condemnation, and yet saw that it was able by the potency of its money directly applied, or silently felt through vast and multitudinous channels of influence, to rear up thousands and tens of thousands of champions ready to fight its battles as if it were utterly innocent, and had even been aggrieved; if I thought thus of the Bank, as I did, had I read nothing more than its own manifesto, I must needs think the work that brought you here of the deepest concern to millions of freemen, living and unborn, of this young and as yet uncorrupted Republic. I considered it probable that the new proofs of offending which your work might, not irrationally, be expected to evolve, would do something towards opening the eyes of the blind, and rousing the sensibilities of the torpid, towards a true estimate of the public dangers which, whether through design or the erroneous use of its rightful power, is capable of stirring up evils from the centre to every extremity of the land, and passions worse than those of war. I beheld almost a hemisphere convulsed. I saw every thing else at a pause—every thing swept into one ingulfing vortex. I felt alarmed, if a banking company could do all this. I felt that barely to sit by whilst, as the chosen agents of a great people, you carried your inquiry into the causes of such transcendent indications and events, would be a bold and recording pen at the scene. Whilst, as your duty, I should have felt it a bounden duty to set up a corporation, I should have acknowledged no co-equality in its dignity with the grand supervising authority; and it would have been with far higher feelings that I would have placed upon the indelible journal of your proceedings for the information and warning of posterity, the new usurpations and affronts of the former, whenever the evidence disclosed them.

These were the feelings with which I acceded to your flattering call; this the spirit in which for a time I went along with you. But the prosecution of your important labors requiring sittings more numerous than had been foreknown, at least by me, and not unfrequently sittings by night; I found that, with a home in the country, I could not, under my present circumstances, give that punctual attendance at them which strict duty demanded. Hence I felt it right to stand aside from some one else might go into the place, not with more zeal than I carried into it and still retain; but with facilities that I could not command for the perfect fulfilment of its requisitions; and I am grateful to the Committee for the testimonial transmitted through your kind letter, touching as much of duty as I performed.

I must throw myself on the Committee's indulgence for so long a letter; the more, as a word is to be added. It is to forestall any further step by the Committee as far as I am concerned, and therefore, I have the hope, will be excused. Honored as being associated with you under feelings to which I have adverted, I took the place with no view to other recompense and can accept none. I make known this from no false feeling I trust, or as any rule to others, but from a purpose previously taken under my own relations to this institution. Having once been its advocate, in documents of the nation, and having since labored for its downfall under a sincere conviction of the number and danger of the abuses already confessed or proved upon it, it was my irrepressible determination to receive no money whatever for assisting in this work of finding out further abuses, if committed. It would have been indicative to the Committee had I imparted such a determination on accepting or whilst remaining in its service, and it was therefore foreborne until now, but cannot be changed.

With sentiments of the highest respect, I have the honor to remain your obedient and faithful servant, RICHARD RUSH.

"Likes to be abused."—The Tory Vhigs are firing hot shot into us from all quarters—but we don't mind them much; some of them are so mean that they say what they are ashamed to own—they will find it a poor "experiment." (It is time for a little more Latin, if we would keep the learned Pandits quiet—so here goes)—In se magna ruunt. Translation for them what's ignorant—"Great things are apt to rush against each other."

"Error in the bill."—The editor of the New Haven Herald lately published a glaring account of the capture of a whale, in the harbor near that city, which proved to be a hoax, put upon him by an anonymous correspondent. A brother editor, somewhat facetiously inclined, says "if there was no Whale taken, there was a monstrous great gudgeon caught, with a naked hook and without bait."

We have received the first number of the NEW YORK TIMES, a daily morning paper, established to take the place of the Standard, by its former editors, Messrs W. HOLLAND and E. SANFORD. It is a large, well filled sheet, and, under the direction of its present editors, cannot but sustain a high reputation for candor and ability.

Portugal.—The English appear to be puzzled to find out the true condition of this country. The New Monthly Magazine says—"we have frequently heard the caution given, to 'hear both sides,' in the affairs of Portugal, we would add, 'but believe neither.'"

POLICE COURT.

Francis Ross, of South Boston, for the last past had established a substantial character for drunkenness, and dangerous and disorderly conduct, and at the same time succeeded in keeping the police myrmidons at bay by his prowess and threats. He'd "give ten dollars to any d—n Yankee constable, that would attempt to arrest him." Constable Andrews, however, made out finally to secure him, but not without losing a large fragment of his double-breasted black broadcloth vest. Frank appeared pretty happy on his trial, laboring under the pleasant self-deception, that the "matter o' five dollars" would patch the lacerated law, and stitch up the constable's vest; but when the "four months" was meted out to him, he expressed a little penitential sorrow. His melancholy, however, was somewhat soothed by the operation of hand-cuffing, which had all the charm of novelty for him. He examined intently every motion in the procedure, and his admiration upon getting an experimental insight into the philosophy of the steel-bracelet apparatus, was strongly depicted in his delighted countenance. Nabby Downing's curiosity was not more gratified and astonished by the Major's patent locomotive butter churn. His beaming eyes seemed to say, more plainly than words could express—"Well, this is the slickest contrivance I ever did see."

Dreadful Tornado.—The Petersburg (Va.) Intelligencer of the 8th inst. contains an account of a dreadful tornado by which that section of the country was visited on the preceding Monday, from which we make the following extract:—

Every thing, within its range, was laid prostrate; the largest trees were torn up by the roots and carried a considerable distance; dwelling and out houses were levelled with the earth, and their fragments scattered in every direction. The day had been cloudy, with occasional showers. About 3 o'clock the clouds assumed a black and lowering aspect: In a few minutes after, the whirlwind commenced its ravages. A correspondent who witnessed its violence, says "It was in the form of an inverted cone, and every cloud near seemed to rush into the vortex. As it approached, you might see the forests careering through the darkened air. Its duration, at any point, was not more than one or two minutes. Its general course was from West to East: its width varied from two hundred yards to a half a mile; and, from what we have already heard of its destructive march, its extent could not have been less than seventy miles."

It appears to have commenced in the county of Lunenburg, near Hungary town—hence it passed by Notaway Court House—from whence it passed to Curtis's (formerly Reese's) on Cox Road, where it appears to have been equally destructive. The next place it reached was the plantation of Mr. Wm. E. Poiseau, about four miles from Petersburg, where the dwelling house, kitchen, barn, &c. were entirely demolished, and their timbers, planks, &c. separated into fragments and scattered over the farm in every direction. Nothing was left to mark the site of the dwelling house but a small portion of the brick foundation. The family escaped from the house, and attempted to take refuge in the garden, but were overtaken by the whirlwind, and knocked down by the flying wreck of their former dwelling. From Mr. Poiseau's, it passed along near the Southern boundary line of Petersburg, without doing much injury until it reached the plantation of Mr. Augustine Burge, in Prince George, from whence it crossed the James River between Tarbay and Coggin's Point.

Numerous lives were lost, and a large amount of property destroyed in buildings, &c. Where it passed through the forests, not a tree was left standing.

Singular.—Mrs. Caroline Snyder, wife of Adam Snyder, of the Northern Liberties, Philadelphia, mysteriously disappeared on the 4th of November last, leaving her infant sleeping in the cradle, and no intelligence could be obtained as to her fate. Her husband, an uneducated but respectable German, formed another attachment, which was to be consummated one day last week. On the very day fixed upon for the purpose, some boys, grappling at Nest's wharf, brought up the body of his former wife, who, it seems, had committed suicide, as it is supposed, in a moment of delirium. The circumstances produced considerable excitement among the ignorant and superstitious, who lost no time in conjuring up bug-bears out of the facts related.

It was expected in Washington, according to Madam Rumor, that the President would send a Message to Congress, on Monday last, in relation to the recent vote in the French Chamber of Deputies.

The splendid new theatre recently built in Mobile, was opened on the 28th ult. with The School for Scandal.

Naval.—The U. S. sloop of war Falmouth, Captain Spencer, arrived at Pensacola on the 20th ult from a cruise, and on the 21st the St. Louis, Capt. Newell from a cruise. The latter ship was fourteen days from Jamaica, parted company with the Vandalia, on the 18th instant, off Cape St. Antonio, bound to Havana, all well. The St. Louis left Cartagena on the 4th ultimo. The French were expected to make an attack on that place on the 15th instant, in consequence of there having been no sufficient repair made for the insult lately offered to the French Consul. Several merchants, apprehensive for the safety of their property, sent considerable amounts of specie by the St. Louis to Jamaica.

The company of Artillery, under command of Major Zantinger had also arrived at Pensacola, and have taken quarters, at Cantonment Clinch, preparatory to a march to the fort on St. Rosa.—N. Y. Com.

Brig Parthian.—This vessel, it will be recollected, arrived some time since at Pernambuco, under suspicious circumstances, in charge of the crew, who stated the captain had landed at Bona, (Africa) and had sailed from there in a vessel bound to Liverpool. It now appears, from accounts received in this city, that the crew had mutinied and placed the captain and officers ashore on an island, from which they had been taken by the Br. ship Royal William, of New Brunswick, which vessel was spoken on the 7th of February. This information is derived from a letter received from St. Stephens, N. B. by a merchant of this city.—N. Y. Star.

Extensive Robbery.—The store No. 136 Pearl street, occupied by Withers & Heard, and Sharp, Tuttle & Co. as Dry Goods Merchants, and several other stores in the block between Malden Lane and Pine st. The drawers and desks were broken open, many valuable papers destroyed and scattered about the floor, and property to a considerable amount stolen.—N. Y. Times.

CITY AFFAIRS.

Upon petition, ordered that a general meeting of citizens be held at Faneuil Hall, on the 20th inst. for the purpose of determining by written ballot, whether they will adopt the act passed at the late session of the Legislature, entitled "an act in further addition to an act establishing the city of Boston."

The following gentlemen were appointed officers of the Fire Department, and warrants granted them: Benj. H. Hammett, foreman, and Wm. H. Orcutt, 2d assistant, of Engine No 10; Joseph Simes, 1st assistant, and Robert J. Brown, clerk, of Fire Co. for the 8th Ward.

A Generous Act.—The National Intelligencer says—The Hon. Mr. Grennell, of Massachusetts, in crossing the bridge over the basin, near the Centre Market House, Washington city, on Sunday last learned from some boys that a negro lad had fallen into the basin, and sunk, some minutes before. Finding any other means of recovering the body hopeless, he threw off his coat, and plunged into the water, (about eight feet deep), and after going down once or twice ineffectually, at last found the body, and conveyed it to the wharf, at all appearance dead. After a short time, however, he had the happiness to perceive that his efforts and the risk he incurred, had not been in vain.—The lad gradually recovered.

A well dressed young man on the Battery, this morning, about half past eleven o'clock, drew a pistol, and putting it to his breast, discharged it. He fell immediately, but on being taken up was found to be but little injured. He stated that the pistol was loaded with ball, but the wound given appeared as if occasioned only by the powder and wadding.—N. Y. Evening Post.

Found.—On Ames' Island, in Connecticut river, nearly opposite this town, by Mr. Philo Temple, the skeleton of a male child long since drowned, apparently six or seven years old. The bones are not quite entire, but may probably all be found when the river subsides. They were, with nearly all its outer dress and some child-like trinkets, imbedded in the sand.—Greenfield Mercury.

At the Supreme Judicial Court sitting in Barnstable this week, the only important case submitted to the Jury was that of Thomas Nickerson and others, of Provincetown, vs. the Ocean Insurance Company of Boston, for insurance effected on the schooner Theatre, lost in the season of 1832. The Jury retired last Wednesday evening about four o'clock, and continued in session until Thursday morning. Verdict for defendants. N. Bedford Gaz.

Fire at Cazenovia.—The sabbath factory belonging to Mr. John Williams, at Cazenovia, Madison county, was destroyed by fire on the evening of the 1st inst. with all its contents, except about 3000 yards of sabbath, which were in the basement. Loss estimated at $8000, and no insurance.

A splendid Roman Catholic Cathedral, recently erected on Grant's Hill, Pittsburgh, Pa., was consecrated on Sunday week; the bishop of the diocese, the Rev Dr. Hughes, of Philadelphia, and several of the clergy officiating.

Joseph Buonaparte has addressed a letter to the French Chamber of Deputies, protesting against the injustice of refusing his family permission to return to France, and thanking all those who have endeavored to obtain this permission.

Captain Seth Thomas, a veteran of the revolution, died at his residence in Ledyard, Cayuga county, on the 14th ult. in the 75th year of his age. Captain T. was one of the electors of President and Vice President, in 1832.

The Nashville Banner, says—"Cotton Crop destroyed."—The frost of last night has destroyed all the cotton which was situated on high grounds in this vicinity."

Yesterday afternoon, the sail boat Ohio, with seven persons on board, was upset and sunk above the Dry Dock, East River, and four were drowned.—N. Y. Gaz. of Monday.

We have received a regular file of Rio de Janeiro papers from the 10th to the 20th March, but they contain nothing of material interest.—Ibid.

Coffee.—From the 1st of January to the 18th of April inclusive, three millions three hundred and eighty-four thousand pounds of Coffee are estimated to have arrived at Philadelphia.

Viscount Powerscourt, and Mr. Parnell, are now in New York, from England, as we learn, on a tour through the United States.

Doyleston, Pa. May 6.—Snow.—We had quite a fall of snow, on Friday evening, and the weather for several days has been too cold for the plants, &c.

At the town of Lucknow, in India, the cholera, in one week, carried off twelve hundred persons.

The President has recognized Don Antonio G. Vega, Vice Consul of Spain, for the port of Boston.

A lady once asked her husband what the difference was between exportation and transportation. "My dear," replied the good natured husband, "there is a difference, and I will endeavor to bring it as near your understanding as possible; suppose that you were exported, I should be transported."

Good Logic.—Said Dinah to Sambo, (as they were taking a loving promenade on the Battery) "Sambo, now do you think de married life mos happyest?" "Well, I'll tell you," said Sambo, "dat arr 'pends altogether how dey enjoy themselves."

Engine Company No. 3 has been disbanded by the city government, for alleged riotous conduct in Washington and State streets, on the 1st inst.

MARRIED.

In this city, on Sunday evening, by Rev Mr. Himes, Asaph R. Robbins to Eleanor M. Littlefield.

COMPOUND CHLORINE TOOTH WASH.

For Cleansing and Preserving the Teeth and Gums, and Cleansing the Mouth.

The Chlorine Tooth Wash effectually cleanses the teeth, and will answer the purpose of the best dentifrice. It contains no acid, or any ingredient which can in any case be injurious. It will also be found to keep the brush itself free from all impurities.

The Compound Chlorine Tooth Wash has the further advantage of cleansing the gums, and of removing whatever is offensive in the breath. It hardens the gums and is a valuable remedy for canker or soreness of the mouth. It may also be used with the greatest advantage as a gargle for sore throat, and it preserves the teeth and mouth in all respects in a clean fine and healthy condition. It is agreeable to the taste. Gentlemen who are in the habit of using tobacco, will find that the tooth wash will speedily remove all the effects of it from the mouth.

That the public may rest assured of the very salutary effects of this composition, the following recommendations from gentlemen of the highest respectability are submitted.

From J. W. Webster, M. D., Erving Professor of Chemistry in Harvard University.

Harvard University, Cambridge, March 14, 1831.

Messrs. Lowe & Reed, Gentlemen—I have examined the Compound Chlorine Tooth Wash received from you, and have no hesitation in stating my belief that it will answer the purpose for which you have compounded it. I have discovered in it no ingredient which can prove injurious to the teeth.

I am, Sir, &c.

J. W. WEBSTER.

From Sylvanus Plympton, M. D.

Messrs. Lowe & Reed, Gentlemen—I have frequently administered your Compound Chlorine Tooth Wash in various affections of the mouth and throat—and relief has been immediate and permanent.

I have also used it in a neuralgic affection of the face and head, arising from a depraved state of the gums and defective teeth, which resisted many powerful approved medicines. This Wash acted like a charm. I hesitate not to give it my entire approbation for the purposes for which it was made, and consider it one of the most useful and effectual articles of the kind ever offered to the public.

I am yours, &c.

Cambridge, Dec. 9, 1831.

From Mr. A. A. Hayes, Operative Chemist and Superintendent of the Roxbury Chemical Works.

Messrs. Lowe & Reed, Gentlemen—Having examined the bottle of Compound Chlorine Tooth Wash you gave me, and become acquainted with its composition, it affords me pleasure to express my belief that it well deserves the high reputation it has acquired. It does not contain any substance in solution or suspension, which either chemically or mechanically injure the teeth, and observation and experience confirm the opinion that its effects on the mouth are salutary and very agreeable.

With respect,

A. A. HAYES.

LIFE IS VALUABLE.

The American Cork Company are now ready to receive orders for ground, grated, rasped, or pulverized Cork, which article is patented for the following purposes, viz: Filling beds, sofas, cushions, and pillows, stuffing seats and cushions for sofas, chairs and carriages, and stuffing saddles and collars for horses, and for the purposes and uses for which feathers, hair, moss, chaff, straw, and other substances have been heretofore used.

The Company are desirous at this time to introduce to the notice of the American people the

CORK MATTRESS.

OR, SEAMEN'S FLOATING BED.

The various beds, having no solid support, of Cork Mattresses, comprising in price from five to ten dollars, and are now ready to execute orders at short notice. The cork will be sold in bulk to such persons as choose to manufacture for themselves.

Head of Western Avenue.

These Mattresses are also for sale by MORSE MELLE, dealer in Furniture, Beds, Mattresses, &c., chambers corner of Union and Ann streets, Boston.

ASA D. COYE, General Agent, at New Orleans.

Agents will soon be appointed in all the principal cities in the United States, of which due notice will be given.

Extract from a letter written by Dr. J. C. Warren on the subject, dated March 10, 1832.

"I find it a valuable invention, especially for vessels, and it was generally used, it might be the means of saving life on many occasions. In regard to health, I believe it to be unobjectionable."

J. C. WARREN.

Extract of a letter from Dr. Waterhouse, dated August 12th, 1833.

"I have examined and tried your Chair Cushions, filled with grated cork, and am pleased with their neatness, and freedom from any thing like fire. Most people would, I believe, give the preference to those filled with rasped cork. I am pleased with their property of sustaining a person on the water, in case of shipwreck, fire, or explosion, and particularly recommend them for use in steamboats, and will venture to predict their introduction."

BENJ. WATERHOUSE.

Extract of a letter from Capt. Breble, President of the Marine Society, Portland, Me., dated March 10, 1832.

"I am perfectly satisfied that it will answer the purpose of a comfortable bed for seamen, and a life preserver in time of shipwreck."

EPOCH FREELE.

Certificates of three gentlemen who witnessed the exhibition in Boston harbor—

We, the undersigned, do hereby certify, that we were present at the exhibition made by Mr. Knapp, on Saturday, the 10th inst., with a Mattress, filled with grated cork, to sustain a person on the water, from the Castle to Long Wharf, which proved successful to our utmost satisfaction. We are happy to state that we are perfectly satisfied as it respects its property in securing persons from shipwreck as intended. We do therefore recommend its use, particularly to mariners, and venture to say, that their introduction on board of vessels, will prove highly important and valuable hereafter.

PATENT FOR THE U. STATES.

Medicated and Chamotte Baths, and Systematic Vegetable Medicine.

These baths are well known to the medical faculty as being the most efficacious, and the most pleasant in Europe and Asia, and are considered in the Oriental, and in the greatest luxury they enjoy, being a preventive as well as a cure of contagious diseases—and they are now introduced in the United States in a new and perfect form, and with the greatest confidence. These Baths are indicated in all the diseases, to which they are now open to the public, and will be administered to families or individuals, under the direction, or according to the prescription of their physicians.

Dr. Mott will undertake the cure for Chronic Diseases, Ulcers, Wounds, Hemorrhages, Rheumatism, Gout, Scalds, internal or external, Gout, Rheumatism, Diarrhoea, Cancer, Imposthones, and other complaints incident to the human frame.

Dr. M. will personally superintend the various Baths, and attend to the prescriptions of the Medical Gentlemen in behalf of their patients.

Without boasting of the cures that have been performed, or pretending to any wonderful knowledge, he would merely say, he would be happy to render the Baths, and the system of Medicine itself, useful to the high Medical Talent of Boston, leaving it to an enlightened public to decide.

These spacious premises have been fitted up with great expense, at the corner of Lynde and Cambridge streets, and other places have been purchased to be fitted up as auxiliary establishments. It may be proper to state, that no mercury or mineral preparations are used—no hot medicines, or cold water—but it is, in fact, the simple use of the Materia Medica with the Herbal Medicine—therefore called Vegetable Medicine.

Teeth and Corns, he will undertake to extract scientifically; Bunions on the joints, corns, or cancerous toe Nails, and other diseases of the Feet, diseases of the Eyes, &c.

Male Patients only, by Mr. Mott, at the Female, and Children. No out door cases can be attended to.

N. B. Agents may purchase Patent Rights for villages, towns, or cities, in any part of the United States, with a guarantee exclusive—together with the Medicines and Book of Directions, by application to DR. MOTT, corner of Lynde and Cambridge streets.

BLACKING.

Liquid, Paste, and Sponge—also a leather preservative, comprising all the kinds now in use, are manufactured and for sale at the Blacking Establishment, head of the Western Avenue.

KNAPP'S JAPAN LIQUID BLACKING, three sizes in stone jugs. The proprietor has the pleasure to inform the public that from long experience in the business, he has been able to make great improvements in the article, so much so, that it is believed, no other kind approaches near it in quality, with the exception of Day & Martin's, which by many is not considered so good. A small quantity, made expressly for retailing, now on hand, and offered to the public on reasonable terms—warranted to give the most entire satisfaction. The smallest orders gratefully received.

KNAPP'S CONDENSED OIL PASTE BLACKING, is offered as above, by the single box, dozen, or cask. This article is superior to any other kind now known in this market; and is purchased. It is prepared with oil, and its shining qualities are believed to be unequalled. It will be sold on liberal terms, and to wholesale dealers in the article, discount will be satisfactory.

KNAPP'S JAPAN SPONGE BLACKING, to be sold as above, by the barrel, gallon, or dozen. It is sufficient to say of this kind, that it contains the highest reputation of any article, of the kind manufactured in this part of the country, and it is the intention of the manufacturer to spare no pains or expense in the preparation of the same.

KNAPP'S LEATHER PRESERVATIVE, for sale as above, (unsuspensible to every man who regards his health or economy.) First, it renders the leather impervious to water, also makes it soft and pliable, and of course prevents it from cracking which is the first symptom of decay in leather. It is believed that one pair of boots with this article applied properly, will wear as long as two with the kind of oil used on them; and for the preservation of leather, should be used in summer as well as winter.

EUROPEAN LEECHES.

WILLIAM BROWN, constantly keeps a supply of the best European LEECHES, and has made arrangements with Miss MARY HASTINGS, who will attend to the application of them.

Orders left at the corner of Washington and Elliot Sts. will meet with prompt attention.

PATENT CORK FOR COLLARS AND SADDLES.

THE AMERICAN CORK COMPANY offer for sale, ground or grated Cork, for Collars and Saddles. The utility of the article has been fully tested, the past year, in a great number of cases where horses' breasts had become sore and inflamed by the use of the ordinary collars.

It has been proved beyond a doubt, that it surpasses every other article that has yet been known or used for that purpose. The fact that it will not become matted, and is a non-conductor of heat, must convince every person of its value. But one further advantage is, these Collars fit the breast of a horse in immediately on their application, which is not the case with any other material. A certificate as to the utility of the article, is submitted.

We the subscribers, having made or used the Cork Horse Collars, made from ground or grated cork, and fully satisfied that they surpass collars made of hair, wool, or any other substance whatever that we have been acquainted with, for the following reasons:—First, the elasticity is sufficient; secondly, it being a non-conductor of heat, does not heat the breast as all other substances do; thirdly, it fits itself to the breast of all other horses' breasts; and fourthly, it has cured all other horses' breasts we have applied it to, or known it to be done."
